

Indiana already has an excellent and successful law that has almost eliminated telemarketing calls at our home. In fact, we used to receive more than a dozen each week. Now we receive one every two weeks or so. If the FCC approves a federal no telemarketing call rule, please allow states that already have more stringent laws in place to keep their own laws. Thank you.